

Yiddish Refresher !

Vey iz meer

- An expression which closely resembles "Who is Me", and is cried out by Jewish mothers every 15 minutes.
- An anthem of true suffering.

Goyim

- People who are Gentile.
- A polite term for anyone who doesn't love a good bargain , or has extra-skin on his schmeckel.

Tatele

- An endearing term of love which means "little man".

- An emasculating term for women to call men, if you think about it.
- But who has time to think.

Gefilte Fish

- A tasty mix of congealed fish parts and transparent slime jelly.
The only food it is permissible for Jewish children to refuse.

- In some families, they may even be allowed to gag, but politely.

Jaleria

- A derogatory term which best refers to a female business associate , or a mother-in-law.
- The closest English equivalent is "bitch".

Kurve

- A call-girl, or prostitute.

- A reference to the Russian Czar's wife at the turn of the 20th Century, and to that flashy shiksa your nephew married.
Also known as Nafkeh.

Kugel

- A yummy blend of overcooked noodles , raisins, and curds of ripe cheese.
- Not fun to look at. When lathered with sour cream makes an excellent artery hardener.

Borsht

- A purple soup made from beets and ammonia.
- Often eaten by elderly Ashkenazic Jews who slurp noisily and have protruding nose hair. Which is helpful, because it stinks to high heaven.

K'neidelach

- Also referred to as matzoh balls.
- Made with styrofoam and sponges.
- ** There isn't a laxative in the world strong enough to counteract them.

Shmendrik

- A man who messes things up, always loses and feels miserable. Closely related to Schlemazel and Schlemiell. Every Jewish family has at least one, often named Irving.

Shlemil

- A jerk who can't do anything right.
- In simple terms, someone who's always spilling his soup.

Shlemazel

- The poor dumb putz a Shlemil is always spilling soup on.

Tzures

- A word referring to all problems, trouble, grief, aggravation and heartache. Examples: daughter pregnant with child of an unemployed Catholic bartender, adult son loses job and moves back home.

Major Tzures: Daughter and baby "Bridget" move back home too.

Latkes

- Potato pancakes fried in castor oil and lightly seasoned with balsa wood.
- Smells like old boxer shorts.

Ken ain-a-jore

- A gleeful rejoice used when Jewish parents find out their only daughter is going to marry the Jewish surgeon (who is bi-sexual) rather than that poor, unemployed goyishe bartender who is a stud...
